

BILL GATES AND MICROSOFT

Bill Gates in his teen just like the other normal teens, just that he has interest in the programming skill in which led to having outstanding programming skills which recognized by his school. To sum up it all, Gates and his partner's Paul grab the opportunity to start their own software company which named Micro-Soft and later it become the Microsoft in which we know nowadays. On this day onwards, the name Microsoft spread to the whole world with the first in developing the operating system. Later, it grows into the giants who dominate over the software market with the products such as Office 365, Xbox and Windows OS. This is because they kept up with the advancing of technology and kept up with the pace of change and take in the problem from the prospective of user to make their company truly remain the world's top software company. And this, is indispensable form the contribution of the Gates who has the right mindset, team, vision and entrepreneurial spirit in making Microsoft.

So, maybe I am not excellent as Bill Gates in terms of talent and resourcefulness, but I hope that I have the same spirit, right mindset and work smart and hardworking as him so that I can have a passion and courage to studying programming with passion so that I can have a solid basic programming skill in order to feed myself in the future.
